

Donation through Workplace Giving

Workplace Giving

Helping out shouldn't be hard.

Especially when it's as beneficial as collective giving.

Just a few dollars in your pay each week can make a big difference.

The Cardinia Community Foundation is a registered charity bringing together the financial resources of many to support not-for-profit organisations dedicated to improving the lives of people in Cardinia. We create a community chest (endowment) in perpetuity that will respond to the needs of our community, both now and into the future. We run yearly community grant programs that focus on six key areas: education, health and wellbeing, social cohesion, the environment, the arts and crisis support, which aligns with the Cardinia Shire's Liveability Plan.

Our current focus is on the cost of living crisis and the impact on housing affordability and food insecurity.

How does it work?

You can choose an amount to be donated each pay cycle. Your employer will deduct it from your pay and it will then be passed onto the Foundation.

Contact us if your employer doesn't have the Cardinia Community Foundation as an option for Workplace Giving.
